

She lives for the Internet!

Antje Weber,
multimedia and web design consultant

As my university studies approached their end in 2002, I looked for an interesting trainee position with a subsequent thesis internship. I found both at PASS, so I moved from Brandenburg to Aschaffenburg. I found the topic for my diploma thesis in the course of my placement: „The analysis of the market potential of voice portals in the banking sector, and the design and prototype implementation of a voice banking application in multi-channel environments“.

In the meantime I am a consultant with PASS with tasks in the field of multimedia and web design which include supporting the virtual banking prototype for the banks of tomorrow. I develop web pages, virtual facilities and concepts for user guidance and navigation.

Based on my topic I wrote a study of web browsers, which was published at the beginning of 2005 as the „PASS browser benchmark“, generating great interest in the trade press. A new edition appeared this year.

The evaluation of innovation in my job with R&D is absolutely my thing, because I spend a lot of my personal time on the Internet and like to get involved with new developments. I love the challenge of staying on top of the technology and always advancing into new areas.

It can be done at PASS!
